Kuala Lumpur, Wednesday 21 April 2010 – Ramli Sarip today announced the line-up for his forthcoming “Tafsiran Alam: Wisdom of Nature” concerts. Marking his solo debut at the country’s premier concert hall, Dewan Filharmonik PETRONAS, the two concerts are set for Monday 10 and Tuesday 11 May 2010.

The concerts will feature Ramli offering an overview of his music spanning more than four decades. He will showcase the incredible diversity of his work as a songwriter, singer, arranger and producer, from the best-loved hits with Sweet Charity, through the years as Papa Rock and his recent forays into world music. His new material will burnish his reputation for innovation.

Ramli has chosen to work with some of the finest Malaysian and Singaporean musicians for these two special concerts. His musical director will be the legendary composer and arranger, Eddie Marzuki. He will lead a stellar 17-piece band that includes Man Kidal and Mohd Rafi (guitars), Din Safari (bass), Tom Anuar (drums), Kudin (keyboards) and features a string sextet.

At the same time, Ramli has identified two guest artists to support his shows. On Monday 10 May, Andre Goh – the veteran pioneer of Malay music – will make an appearance. On Tuesday 11 May, Misha Omar – the talented young soul and R&B singer – will be on stage.

The presenter and producer – Impress Creative and Editorial and Rasamusic – are pleased to announce that they have made an arrangement to donate proceeds from the concerts to support the work of Yayasan Kemanusiaan_Muslim Aid Malaysia, who appointed Ramli as its ambassador in January 2010. These funds will contribute to vital international charitable and humanitarian work.
